TIMES GO BY TURNS.

The following beautiful poem, by Robert Southwell, who was born in 1560 and executed at Tyburn in 1596, is, in compactness of thought and felicity of expression hardly equalled by any similar production within our knowledge. It is a perfect mosaic of maxims, and, with very slight alterations, would bear cutting up into lines, every one of which would serve as an apothegm:—

The lopped tree in time may grow again;
Most naked plants renew both fruit and flower,
The sorriest wight may find release from pain:
The driest soil sucks in the moistening shower:
Time goes by turns, and chances change by course
From foul to fair, from better hap to worst.

The Sea of Fortune doth not ever flow;
She draws her favors to the lowest ebb;
Her tides have equal times to come and go;
Her loom doth weave the fine and coarsest web;
No joy so great but runneth to an end,
No hap so hard but may in fine amend.

Not always fall of leaf, nor ever Spring;
Not endless night, nor yet eternal day;
The saddest birds a season find to sing;
The roughest storm a calm may soon allay.
Thus, with succeeding terms, God tempereth all.
That man may hope to rise, yet fear to fall.

A chance may win that by mischance was lost;
The net that holds not great, takes little fish;
In some things all, in all things none are crossed;
Few all things need, but none have all th' wish,
Unmingled joys here to man befall;
Who least, has some; who most hath never all.

LETTER FROM PANAMA.

U. S. FLAG SHIP LANCASTER,
BAY OF PANAMA, NEW GRENADA.
APRIL 25th, 1860.

Dear Tribune:—Believing that a few items from the Pacific squadron would not be uninteresting to the numerous readers of your valuable sheet, I proceed to give you the same in as condensed a form as possible. I am naturally, however, given to minuteness, and may grow prolix; but we will see.

The Lancaster is now on her first cruise. She was built in the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and put in commission May 12th, 1859. You doubtless remember that we left on our trial trip to Norfolk, June 8th. Leaving Hampton Roads July 6th, we stood out for Rio, but were obliged to return to Philadelphia, to renew a defective rock shaft. The necessary repair being made, we made a second attempt, and with the usual vicissitudes of seafaring life,—calms, head-winds, salt food, etc.—reached Rio after a passage of 49 days. The time might have been reduced somewhat by steaming, but the high price and limited amount of anthracite, and the fact that there was no particular use in hurrying, induced the captain not to drive her. The most amusing feature in the passage, and one which served greatly to relieve the monotony of life at sea, was the visit of old "King Neptune" to the ship, when we crossed the Line. You are aware that "old Nep" (as sailors familiarly term him) exercises supremacy on the high seas, and always claims the privilege of introducing himself to all persons, the first time they cross the Equator. The introduction, though, is of such an impressive character, that one amply suffices. The operation consists in shaving, and is performed after the following agreeable style. A piece of iron hoop, about two feet long, bent in a semi-circular form, notched with a file and attached to a piece of broom handle, constitutes a razor, and a pot of slush and coal tar, the lather. The candidates are brought forth separately, and seated on the brink of a pool of salt water, a foot or more deep. After a superficial questioning, a suffusion of the lather is applied with a stiff swab, to the face, by an attendant, when "old Nep" proceeds to shave with his "trust razor," as the well-known ditty expresses it. 'Twould indeed be a pity to allow the poor fellows to go unwashed; in consideration of which they are rudely tossed back into the water, where stand ready quite a sufficient number of recently victimized members, to roll and douse the patient sufferers, until they are thoroughly drenched. The operation, extended to some two hundred cases, as was done aboard the Lancaster, with the necessarily accompanying ludicrous incidents, make it a sport richly to be enjoyed by spectators, though, probably, not so agreeable to those immediately concerned.

On the 13th of September we anchored in the beautiful, hill-bound harbor of Rio de Janeiro. On that morning we fell in with a Brazilian side-wheel coast steamer, of English construction, also bound into Rio. The sea was perfectly placid; not a breath of wind; no sail set. She gained on us steadily and finally passed, (crossing our bow,) hoisted her flag in triumph, and enveloped us in a cloud of bituminous smoke, so dense as to totally obscure her. Up to this time we had not supposed she was racing; but the evidence being indisputable, we got up steam to 23 lbs. pressure, made 53 revolutions of the screw per minute, and anchored ten minutes before her, notwithstanding the advantage she gained by a direct course, while we cautiously kept further out to sea to avoid shoals. The speed attained in this trial was 12 knots (nearly 14 miles) per hour, the best I have ever seen the Lancaster make under steam alone. Her engines were built by Reaney, Neafie & Co., of Philadelphia, and are indeed a perfect success. We remained in Rio 14 days, provisioning and coaling ship, and seeing the sights. September 28th we weighed anchor, and started on the passage round the "Horn." Fair winds, fair weather and long runs were the order of the day, and all went off smoothly, until midnight of the 7th of October, when, off the mouth of the Rio la Plata, the ship was suddenly struck by a violent "pampero," which placed matters in a much more confused condition than a tidy, order-loving housewife at home would care to see in her domicil. The wind blew and howled terrifically, sails were rent into ribbons, while men hesitated to go aloft for fear of being blown from the yards. The blow lasted for several hours, during which the sea ran very high, and the ship rolled deep and heavily. The next morning, below decks, a scene of wreck and confusion was presented that was really amusing. Truly, there would have been a sketch for an artist. Tables, that had been secured to the deck by heavy screws, imbibing a fancy for innocent, healthy amusement, cast off the restraints, and danced about, in a most graceless manner, by the bye, until becoming weary, their supports failed, and they sought repose on the deck, bottom up. A large chair, going out to witness the feat, fell and had its arm broken, but was subsequently bound over to keep the piece.—A small boy, rushing to the rescue, suddenly found his cranium in too close contact with the side of the ship, and divers bandages next morning gave him the appearance of a son of Erin after a "free fight." A bucket of waste water, thinking to enjoy a more intimate acquaintance with a young engineer, who lay cosily ensconsed in his berth, slipped gracefully across the room, while the ship listed to port, and turned in with him. Anything else but pleasant. Indeed, he considered it rather a cool compliment. Dishes, papers, books, boots, shoes, combs, brushes, and a host of miscellaneous matter strewed the deck. In a word, very few things were in their proper places, and the entire day was spent in restoring order. But, as I feared, I am reaching too far into details, and becoming tedious. On Sunday, Oct. 15th, we "lay to" in one of the most severe gales of wind that was ever seen in the South Atlantic, and were some 500 miles from land off Point Desire, Patagonia. Fair weather ensued, and at daybreak, October 21st, the high, rugged cliffs of Terra del Fuego (the land of fire,) were seen off the starboard bow. After a few hours, Staten Land was also made, and steaming her through the Strait of Le Maire, which divides the two, and is about 15 miles long and 2 or 3 wide, stood off to the southward, intending to make sufficient southing that night to clear Cape Horn, and put her head to westward next day. But, unfortunately for the calculation, a strong gale arose during the night, and the next morning found us 40 miles to the eastward of the Strait. Struggling along, we managed to regain by noon the position assumed the previous day; and on Sunday, Oct. 23rd, at 4 A. M., with a calm, smooth sea, we passed, under steam, the veritable, old, time-worn, much-dreaded Cape Horn, not more than 10 miles distant; a sight which very few persons enjoy that make the passage, being generally driven so far south amid almost insufferable cold and huge icebergs, as to see no land until the towering Andes on the Pacific coast greet their longing eyes. In Rio the weather was very warm, thermometer frequently at 100°, but as we went south the atmosphere gradually cooled, until, when reaching the Cape, heavy under and over clothing were called into requisition, and did not appear at all superfluous. Don't have any stoves aboard.

The irregular, snow-capped peaks of Terra del Fuego, rising almost perpendicularly 1000 feet above the ocean level, though depressing in elevation as they receded, presented a scene at once sublimely grand, and contrasted singularly with the low, rocky, barren wastes of Staten Land, whose arid surface forbids its occupation by either man or beast, and whose dreary solitudes are alone invaded by the weather-beaten fowls of that region. But to return. Two weeks more of gales of wind, with frequent rain, hail and snow-storms, (during which we got down as low as Lat. 59°, experiencing severe cold—where day dawned at 3 o'clock in the morning, and twilight lasted until 9 P. M.,) brought us into the peaceful Pacific, and on the 11th of November, at 3 20 P. M., we let go our anchor in the harbor of Valparaiso, the principal seaport of Chili.—The city lies on the south side of the harbor, and is built chiefly on hills that slope gently to the southward, and rise to the height of six or eight hundred feet. The streets leading to the summits ascend in a spiral form, for ease of elevation, and are very narrow. A railroad, across the Andes to Santiago, the capitol of the republic of Chili, and about 100 miles distant, was surveyed some ten years ago; and, under the direction and immediate superintendence of English engineers and employees, and equipped with English engines and rolling stock, has now a working line of some forty-five miles, at a cost of nearly $60,000,000 to the Government. Truly, a living monument of English enterprise; and more especially when we consider that a "down east" engineer of no little celebrity, proposed to construct the entire line for $5,000,000, in five years, or forfeit all the labor expended. Having been replenished with coal and provisions, we left, Nov. 21st, for Panama, the station of the Pacific Squadron. Between steam and sail, we made the passage of 3000 miles in 15 days, and, excepting the loss of a man overboard, had nothing to occur worthy of note. While performing duty, he fell from the bridle port and went down before the boat, which was lowered immediately, reached him. The moment the alarm was given the engines were stopped and the life buoy struck away, but to no purpose. Whether he was unable to swim, or was magnanimously taken in out of the "wet" by a shark, I am unable to say. On our arrival we found the U. S. steam frigate Saranac and sloop Levant in port. The former is still here, and the latter about to return from a short cruise up the coast. For an interesting description of the city of Panama, I refer you to Harper's Magazine of September, '59, by the popular "Oran." Suffice it for me to say, that excluding the scarcity of Americans, the dingy complexion and questionable beauty of the ladies, the custom of burning the dead, the excessive warmth, and unhealthy tendency of the climate, and the seven months in the year during which rain pours almost continually, I like the place very well. The U. S. steam sloop Wyoming, from Philadelphia Oct. 7th, 1859, arrived here about the middle of last month, but is now at Realejo on the coast. The U. S. steamer Powhattan, Commodore Tatnall, from the East Indies, touching at Honolulu and San Francisco, with the Japanese Embassy on board en route for the United States, arrived here yesterday morning at daybreak. About 10 o'clock Flag officer Montgomery, with the Captains and officers of the Lancaster and Saranac, went aboard, and were separately introduced to the ambassadors and suite. The Embassy consists of two ambassadors, one censor, one vice governor, sixteen under officers and secretaries, and fifty-two attendants, in all seventy-two.—As a matter of interest, I affix the names of the principals:—

1st Ambassador.—Sinume Bujen-no-kami.
2d Ambassador.—Muragake Awage-no-kami.
Chief Censor.—Ogure-Bungo-no-kami.
Vice Governor.—Morita Okatano
Chief Interpreter.—Namura-Gohatsiro.

This morning they left the Powhatan, and were taken across to Aspinwall on the Panama Railroad. For the sake of recreation, and the interest naturally attaching to a trip with so singular a people, I concluded, with other officers from the different ships, to accompany them. The train, consisting of six cars, left at 8 A. M., and without stopping ran to San Pablo station, 28 miles in 50 minutes, which is reckoned in this country very quick time; and, considering the heavy mountain grades and curves, really is. The locomotive was decked with the American, Japanese and New Grenadian flags, and otherwise ornamented, and looked very well. An elegant collation, prepared by the popular Panama Railroad Co., was served at San Pablo, in which all present were invited to, and so far as I saw, did participate.—The American, French and English consuls, the Governor of New Grenada, the Peruvian Minister, and numerous other grandees were present. Champagne followed copiously, and the gusto with which the Japanese assisted in keeping it from running to waste, induced the belief that they were not unaccustomed to its use.—An hour sufficed to satiate the thirst of the already initiated, and the train moved on to Aspinwall, stopping a short time at Gahin. On arriving, the Japanese were comfortably quartered aboard the U. S. steam frigate Roanoke, which will leave to-morrow for the United States. The Japanese are, intellectually, a superior people to the Chinese. Several of the Embassy speak English well enough to be understood in almost every particular. Some half a dozen are first-class artists, as the ease and correctness with which they sketch objects evinces. Scarcely any portion of the machinery of the Powhatan's engines remained unsketched; and seldom was any part of the daily routine of the ship performed, that one or more of them were not present, busy with book and pencil. They use a camel's hair pencil and India ink, and are not much given to making lines that are unnecessary. Views of the locomotive, cars and scenery along the road were readily taken, and reflected great credit. The people are of lighter build than Americans, being neither so tall nor thickly set. But their features are rather fine, their foreheads high, for the most part, with sufficient breadth to denote decision, the eyes black and observing, the face rather delicate, and the nose thin, spirited and aquiline. The chin is sharp, but by no means feminine. Their average height is about five feet seven or eight inches.

Truly, the arrival of these persons must be regarded as one of the greatest events of modern times. It is difficult to overestimate the benefit that promises to result to the United States from this verification of the good feeling entertained by the Government of a country sealed against all foreign intercourse for over 200 years; and it is a duty we owe to ourselves, to our country, and posterity, to cultivate the amicable relations so happily commenced.

You will, doubtless, during their wanderings through the States, (though poverty-stricken and abused editors,) have the pleasure of a sight of these wonderful people, and be able to judge whether or not I have attached undue importance to the subject. But I leave them.

We are now preparing for sea, and expect to start for a short cruise on the Mexican coast immediately after the arrival of the mail from New York, due on Saturday next, 28th inst. The health of the squadron is good. More anon.

T. S. C.

A FAMOUS UNION SPEECH.

The May number of the Knickerbocker Magazine has the following extract from a famous Union speech, reported by T. Hulbert Underwood:

During the exciting campaign of 185–, in Illinois, a prominent politician made a disunion speech at Quincy. After he was through, and before the crowd had dispersed, a man who called himself the "Aforesaid M. D.", was called for. He was lifted upon the platform, so "elevated" that he could not stand without holding on to something. He said:

Gentlemen and ladies, you're talkin' of dissolvin' the Union; you can't do it!—Thar's that flag a wavin' up thar, called the Star Spangled Banner; how'ye a goin' to divide that, ha? Are yer a goin to give the stars to the Norf and the stripes to the Souf? No siree: the thing can't be did. [Cheers.]

And thar's that good old toon that the band's a playin' out thar, called Yankee Doodle; how ye a goin' to divide that, eh? Are ye a goin' to give the Yankee to the Norf and the Doodle to the Souf? I say boldly the thing can't be did. [Cheers.]

And thar's that stream of water a runnin' down thar, called "Father of waters;" how are ye a goin' to dam it up with Mason and Dixon's line? I say ye can't do that thing! Wal, ye can't. [Cheers.]

And thar's the railroads lavin' out thar; how are ye a goin' to divide them, old hosses! Are ye a goin' to run 'em north, and run 'em south, and run 'em east, and run 'em west? [Cheers.]

And thar's the hansum wimmin round here; how are ye a goin' to divide them? Are you a goin' to give the old ones to the Norf, and the young ones to the Souf?—Waal, you don't! If you go to thunder you can't do it! [Immense cheering.]

And thar's the feathered tribe and other birds a flyin' about here, and the chickens and the egg's nests, and the yaller legs and the black legs; how you goin to divide them, eh? Are you goin to give the pullets to the Norf and the cocks to the Souf? [Tremendous cheering.]

Our reporter could hear no more, for the roars of laughter which ensued as the "Doctor" caved in and fell from the platform.

ABOUT THE TIME.—Some years ago a party of Cambridge philosophers undertook, for a scientific object, to penetrate into the vasty depths of Whcal Fortune Mine. The venerable Professor Farash, who made one of the number, used to relate with infinite gusto, the following startling incident of his visit:—On his ascent in the ordinary manner, by means of the bucket, and with a miner for a fellow passenger, he perceived, as he thought, certain unmistakable symptoms of frailty in the rope. "How often do you change your ropes, my good man?" he enquired, when about half way up from the bottom of the awful abyss. "We change them every three months, sir," replied the man in the bucket, "and we shall change this one to-morrow, if we get up safe!"

☞ Typographical errors come in odd sometimes. The other day we were reading a description of enthusiastic demonstrations at a political gathering, when the type went on to say—"The air was rent with the snouts of three thousand people!" A still more ridiculous "bull" was once made by the foreman of a daily office in Indianapolis. In making up the forms he accidentally placed a large display line belonging to a stage advertisement, over a patent medicine. In the paper he was surprised to read, "Through by Daylight! Braggs' Celebrated Pills."

☞ DOMESTIC BEARS.—Once upon a time there lived a couple known far and wide for their interminable squabbles.—Suddenly they changed their mode of life, and were as complete patterns af conjugal felicity as they had formerly been of discord. A neighbor, curious to know the cause of such a conversion, asked the gudewife to explain it. She replied, "I and the old man have got on pretty well ever since we kept two bears in the house.

"Two bears!" was the perplexed reply.

"Yes, sure," said the lady, "bear and forbear."

☞ Cheerfulness is perfectly consistent with piety.

Political—Platforms.

We notice that a number of editors, who have heretofore exhibited strong American proclivities, run up the nominees of the Chicago Convention, but gag considerably in attempting to swallow the 12th and 14th sections of the platform adopted by said Convention. Some of them "spit upon the platform," others "pitch the 14th plank overboard," and others confess that some portions of it "do not exactly meet their views." A few papers have not, as yet, put up the names of Lincoln and Hamlin, but the tenor of their editorials leave room to infer that they will.

In accepting the nomination, Lincoln is expected to accept the platform; and if he be a man fit to be President, which we have not heard doubted, he will be honest enough to carry it out, at least so far as he may have jurisdiction in the matter.—If he does not, he must deceive some portion of his supporters, as every plank in the platform is intended to express the sentiments of a particular portion of the party, and that particular portion will hold him accountable for any deviation from the pledge (or platform) to which he has subscribed.

The Tariff and American resolutions (the 12th and 14th,) are not what the American or Union party desired, and not such as they can fight upon with a good will, if their sentiments are real; however, if they are content with them as they stand, and accept of Lincoln thereon, the Democracy have no right to complain, and may calculate on having a pretty hard fight to win the prize. But if we are not mistaken in expressed opinions, the Americans in these parts are not satisfied with the platform. While they admit the acceptability of the man, in point of ability and statesmanship, they do not hesitate to avow their intention to throw overboard both man and platform, and vote for Bell and Everett, the nominees of the Baltimore Convention, should they remain in the field.

We know not to what extent this disaffection may exist in other counties, but presume there is more or less of it in every county; yet we can not judge by this place, or even the county, as it must be admitted that Blair county, and Altoona particularly, contains more straight-out Americans, in proportion to the popular vote, than any other county in the State, not excepting the cities.

In the event of Bell and Lincoln both remaining in the field, and the Democracy uniting upon a candidate, we may expect a contest and result similar to that of 1856. But on the Democratic side of the house matters do not appear to move on any more harmoniously than with the Opposition. The North and South, or rather the Douglas and Buchanan factions have arrayed themselves against each other, and the breach instead of closing up appears to become wider. Neither party is inclined to give in, and what the result will be, the 12th of June alone will tell. To see the party thus remain divided is no doubt the hope of the Opposition, as in that event, if Lincoln or Bell should not be elected by the popular vote, the election would go to Congress where they would stand another and an equal chance with their competitors.

But will the Democracy remain thus divided? They have often, heretofore, differed among themselves, not to the extent that they do at present, it is true, but when the time for work and voting came they all pulled together, and we have no doubt they will do the same this time.—The doctors of the party possess a remedy which heals all diseases of this kind just in the niche of time. If the Opposition are trusting to this disaffection to give them a victory this fall, we fear they are leaning on a broken reed. The Democracy have been defeated in a fair contest, with man for man, and they may be defeated again in the same way, but they can not be with two against one.

We find there is a desire on the part of some of the members of both factions of the Opposition, to concede a little for the sake of harmony; but unless this desire becomes general and concessions are made on both sides, it will not avail.

This thing of building platforms for candidates to stand upon is almost a humbug, unless it be to compass their defeat. They have been the means of dragging down many good men to political graves. If a man has succeeded in raising himself to that position before the people of the country, which proclaims him qualified to discharge the duties of Chief Magistrate of this mighty nation, his principles should certainly be sufficiently well defined and widely known to preclude the necessity of laying down a set of rules to which he must subscribe and by which he must be governed, whether they accord with his views or not. Promises made by candidates at such times are too often broken, and contempt thereby brought upon an officer who should be above reproach. The previous principles and conduct of a man should speak for him. If they do not, he should not be trusted even with a platform under him. We have ever considered platforms mere traps to catch the votes of this or that particular class of voters, and beyond this of none effect, therefore the sooner they are done away with the better it will be for really meritorious aspirants to the Presidential chair.

LETTER FROM HEENAN.—Wilkes' paper publishes a letter from Heenan of date May 5th, in which he states that he is now well; that he don't blame Sayers for anything that was done; that he does blame the referee; and thinks, no matter how often he deserves it, that the English would never allow him to have the belt. He intends to do all he can, however, for a fair fight, and glad to say that he has got a day set for a new battle, but he cannot mention it at present, as it would come back there in time to prevent the meeting. In the meantime, he thinks he shall go over to Ireland to train, or to some place at any rate where he shall not be harrassed as he was before. In a postcript he says:—"We will have no speculation in the next fight in the way of railroad trains or three-guinea tickets. There will be merely a party of twenty-five a side, seconds, principals, spectators, all told, and then I hope and think the best man may win."

LATER.

A HAPPY ADJUSTMENT.—The Arabia brings news that Bell's Life (London) announces that a meeting had taken place between Sayers and Heenan at that office, to discuss measures for terminating the dispute between them as to the champion's belt. It was ultimately agreed that two new belts, exact counterparts of the one so much coveted, should be made for the purpose, to be raised by public subscription; each of the candidates was to head the list for that to be held by his opponent. The old belt will remain in possession of the proprietor of Bell's Life, to be fought for by whoever may aspire to the honor of wearing it. Sayers has engaged to retire from the prize ring.

UNCLE SAM'S FARM.—The amount of land the United States Government has for sale is almost incalculable. All the people of fourteen States and Territories derive their title to their land from the Federal Government, and the records and files evincing the inception of their rights are preserved in the General Land office at Washington. The public domain now covers a surface, exclusive of water, of 1,450,000,000 acres. The Government has sold about 120,000,000 acres of land during the last quarter of a century, for less than $150,000,000. It will thus be seen, Uncle Sam's farm is sufficiently large for practical purposes, and though he should sell off lands for centuries to come he would have an abundance still, even if he does not enlarge his borders by the anexation of Cuba, Mexico and half the rest of the world.

☞ Letters have been received in Washington from Mr. Everett, soliciting the opinion of his friends there as to the acceptance of the Baltimore nomination, and exhibiting some signs of reluctance. They have generally advised him that he ought to accept, because the Convention adjourned without making provision for such a contingency, and if he was disinclined, that decision should have been announced promptly, to have allowed another selection. Besides, it is contended that a withdrawal would involve him in embarrassments not easily relieved.—It is believed that distrust as to an election is the only cause of hesitation on his part.

☞ Judge Jones, of the Register, answers our question in reference to the 14th plank of the Chicago platform, by saying that it does not accord with his views, and he don't own it. His reasons, however, for supporting the nominees of the Chicago Convention are certainly reasonable, if it is his desire to get on the strong side, and if he can induce all the members of the American party to consider matters in the same light and follow his example he will do a good work for the Opposition, but we imagine he will have some difficulty in doing so.

☞ The Cincinnati Commercial of the 24th says that a dispatch was received yesterday afternoon by George W. Cass, Esq., of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, from certain of the largest holders of the first mortgage bonds of this road, desiring that a meeting may be had at an early day, at which it is proposed to submit a scheme or plan by which the road can pass from the hands of the present Receiver, Mr. Ogden, of Chicago, into the old management. Some such arrangement will undoubtedly be made during the next few months.

The Student and Schoolmate, a small magazine for boys and girls, edited by W. T. Adams, N. A. Calkins and Father Forrester, is one of the best publications of the kind in the country. It abounds in humorous stories and anecdotes all of which impart information to the youthful mind in a manner that cannot be forgotten. The price, which is $1,00, is so small that it places it within the reach of almost every family of boys and girls.—Published by Robison, Green, & Co. Boston.

☞ When Jefferson was elected President by the House of Representatives there were sixteen States, and nine were necessary to a choice. On thirty-five ballots they stood each time: Jefferson, eight; Burr, six; tied two. On the thirty-sixth ballot Jefferson had ten States; Burr, four; blank, two. In 1824, John Quincy Adams was also chosen President by the House. There were then twenty-four States. Mr Adams received the votes of thirteen; General Jackson, seven; Mr. Crawford four.

A GEORGIA GIANT.—There is a man in Atlanta, Georgia, who offers to fight the "Benicia Boy" for $10,000, the match to come off some time this summer, south of Mason & Dixon's Line. He is six feet one inch high, weighs 210 pounds, is in the prime of life, and is said to be a Hercules in strength and an Apollo in symmetry. If Heenan will not fight him, he offers to fight with any man in the world.

☞ We notice that the Opposition of Somerset county have nominated Ed. Scull, of the Somerset Whig, as their candidate for Congress in this district, subject to the decision of the district Congressional Conference. Ed. is a lawyer of considerable ability, a good editor and a clever fellow, and we would as soon see him go to Congress as any other man.

AMONG LAUREL 24 HOURS.—We learn from Mr. George McDowell, constable of Millville borough, that a young girl named Hopkins, aged about thirteen years, was lost in the laurel on Benshoof's Hill, on Wednesday afternoon of last week, while hunting a cow belonging to a relative with whom she was living. Finding about 5 o'clock that she had unconsciously departed from the road, she attempted to retrace her steps, but in doing so became still more bewildered, and when darkness fell upon her she discovered that she was indeed lost. All night long she wandered through the laurel in an agony of terror, and when daylight dawned she could still discover no outlet from the labyrinth which surrounded her. Hungry and fatigued, she felt when she made this discovery like giving up in despair, but, "hope springs eternal in the human breast," and Miss Hopkins again attempted to extricate herself from the laurel which extended in every direction as far as her eye could reach. So she trudged on, all day, at times hopeful, but often desponding and despairing, until at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, her heart was gladdened by the sight of a mountaineer's cabin, by the owner of which she was kindly cared for. Here she was found the same evening by a party which had that morning started in search of her.—Johnstown Tribune.

IN CAPTIVITY THIRTEEN YEARS.—The Lancaster Express says that recently Mr. George Brubaker, a citizen of that county, returned home after an absence of some years. He was captured by a band of Chamanchese, while on his way to California, in 1847, thirteen years ago, and had just escaped from them. After becoming acquainted with the language and habits of the Indians he was made a medicine man, and in that capacity did a great deal of good among them, preaching to them, and has succeeded in converting over two hundred to the Christian religion. It was only after the most solemn promises that he would return that they would allow him to depart, and he will go back as soon as he has seen his family, who have mourned him for years as dead.

TRIAL OF MUSCLE.—The development of muscle leads not always to the prize ring. In Troy, New York, the other day, John McNinney and Patrick Kennedy, blacksmiths both, had an extraordinary trial of skill. The former challenged the latter to compete with him in making horse shoes for the championship. The challenge was accepted and the working time fixed at ten hours; each man, with his "helper," went at the metal. Their shops were surrounded through the day with an interesting throng, and ropes were stretched about the forges to give sufficient space. At the expiration of the ten hours, Kennedy had made 240 shoes, and McNinney 210. Near the close of the contest the "helper" of the latter fainted from fatigue. It is not probable that an equal feat has ever been accomplished before.

TAKING THE CENSUS.—"Preparations to take the Sensus of the United States!" exclaimed Mrs Partington. "What will yet become of our inheriticked liberalities? If our extinguished men, who are the male-factors of the country, will disist in tneir course, and by their influence or by expulsion take away the senses of the impenitent voters, then ado to the rice communities which our noble pergrinators anjured by their blood and pleasures." Having exhausted herself by this long and earnest sentence, she was only able to add: "Others may do as they confer, but as for me I will never engender my senses to any one." Then, adjusting her spectacles, she was heard to say softly to herself: "If they take away the people's senses I think it makes very little diffidence how many children and cattle, net cetera, they have in their profession."

SNAKE STORY.—On Monday beforc last Mr. Henry Kelley, whose farm is two miles from Owensboro, found a common gallon jug on his farm, where it had lain apparently untouched for several years.—It was, no doubt, once the receptacle of liquor. Mr. K. picked up the jug and took it home, and hearing something bumping about inside, which could not be gotten out of the mouth, he broke the jug and exposed to view a large-sized viper, which must have crawled in while young and remained in a torpid state during the winter, or so long that it had grown too large to get out of its prison. Mr. Kelley soon knocked his snakeship into jelly, but sensibly said that it was not the first snake that came out of a whiskey jug.—Uniontown (Ky.) News.

☞ The Ohio State Journal of the 18th, speaking of the recent meteoric shower in Guernsey county, of that State, says:

"One of the meteors has been laid upon our table by Mr. John Burdick, of this city, who dug it from its concealment in the bosom of the earth on his farm in Guernsey county. The meteor flashed upon our astonished vision, perfectly docile, a black, wedge shaped mass of conglomerate rock, with a very mysterious smell. The meteor weighs just nine pounds, and was seen to descend like a streak of lightning, blazing like molten iron. It penetrated the earth about a foot and a half, leaving a huge hole.

DEMOCRATIC WIGWAM.—The Baltimore American says that it has been proposed to erect a suitable temporary building for the express accommodation of the forthcoming Democratic Convention, and capable of seating all who may wish to be present. To obtain the means for this purpose a public subscription is proposed. Each subscription of $5 will entitle the contributor to a ticket giving him a claim to a reserved seat in the building at all times while the Convention is in session. From 1000 to 1500 subscriptions of this kind will be required for the successful accomplishment of this project.

☞ In the stomach of a dead cow at Double Springs, Ky., were found eighty-two balls of hair, varying in size from four to ten inches. They were almost round, hard, and perfectly compact. For a number of years past at the hog-slaughtering season the hair was purchased and spread on the earth to dry. Where the hair was spread last year, the grass grew up this spring. The cow, while eating grass, must have swallowed the hair, forming the various balls.

HAIL STORM.—On Friday of last week a most destructive hail storm passed over parts of Bucks county, about half a mile wide. It destroyed everything in its range, grass and grain were crushed into the ground, fruit trees destroyed, forest trees were trimmed of their leaves and appeared like dead trees, birds and young rabbits were found dead. Hail was discovered in gutters from one to two feet thick.

☞ A very successful dairyman writes to the New England Farmee, that one of the greatest essentials in the management of cows is good milking. Each cow should have a steady milker, be milked as fast as possible, and all the milk drawn. I am satisfied there is a loss of one third in many daries, by the lazy, haphazard way in which cows are milked. I have known persons to sit down in the milking yard and go through with some long yarn, and be from ten to twenty minutes milking one cow, when it should be done in less than five.

☞ On Saturday last, nine individuals convicted at the present term of Court of damaging "the peace and dignity of the State of Delaware," received their rewards of merit in the shape of sundry blows of the "cat," at the hands of the sheriff, in the jail yard at New Castle. There were three colored women there who stood the punishment better than the men did.

☞ The old legal rule that a tenant was bound to continue to pay rent to the end of his lease, notwithstanding the premises might be destroyed by fire, has been reversed by act of the New York Legislature, and in case of the destruction of the building or its injury so as to be untenantable, "by the elements or any other cause," without fault of the tenant, he may surrender possession.

☞ The following are two excellent subjects for debates: "which is the most delightful operation: To kiss a fair woman on a dark night or a dark woman on a fair night."

Which is the most agreeable situation: "Loose in tight pants or tight in loose pants."

SETTLED AT LAST.—There has been considerable doubt as to whether Lincoln's first name was Abram or Abraham. We find in the debates between himself and Douglas, published in Ohio as a Republican campaign document, and carefully prepared by Lincoln himself, he universally spells his name Abraham. But to settle the matter, the Chicago Journal says:—"We have Mr. Lincoln's authority for saying his name is Abraham."

☞ Mr. Trumbull, of Ohio, speaking of the nominations at Chicago, says of Mr. Lincoln:—"They call him "Old Abe," and yet he is in the prime of life—about fifty-one years old. He is a giant in stature, six feet three inches high, and every inch a man. He is a giant, and without the prefix of "Little" to it. A giant in intellect as well as in stature."

☞ A late writer in the Ohio Cultivator gives the following remedy for nail growing in the flesh:—Cut a notch in the middle of the nail every time the nail is pared. The disposition to close the notch draws the nails from the side. It cured mine after I suffered weeks with its festering.

EXPENSIVE ITEM.—The mere cost of the land on which British railways are constructed, has averaged $48,000 per mile—as much as the average cost of making a railway in the United States.

☞ The first new white wheat—from Georgia—was sold in New York on Monday at $1,75 a bushel, Wonderful, but True.

A few days since, Mr. Jas. H. Beadle, of Huntsville, Alabama, called on us and gave us permission to publish for the benefit of suffering humanity, the astonishing cure which had been effected in the case of his wife by the use of Dr. Hance's Vegetable Epileptic Pills. He informed us, that at the time his wife commenced using the medicine, her system was so entirely prostrated, by the number of spasms she had undergone, as to reduce her weight to 100 lbs. Since she has been taking the pills, she has entirely got over the spasms and has gained in weight and bodily health. She now weighs at least 200 lbs., and declares she is in better enjoyment of health than ever before in her life. Mr. Beadle also related the case of Mr. Harrison Lightfoot of the same town, who has been entirely cured of the worst form of Epilepsy by these same pills. Mr Lightfoot's case was so bad that he never passed a week without having an attack, often falling down in the street. He has not had an attack for more than a year. Mr. Beadle thinks that if the pills ever fail in curing a case, it is for the want of a proper perseverance on the part of the person in taking them, as he feels assured from observation in the case of his wife, that if they are taken for a sufficient length of time, they will cure any case. Sent to any part of the country by mail, on the receipt of a remittance. Address SETH S. HANCE, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24.

Have You a Diseased Liver.

The question, though startling, is sufficiently suggestive when the fact is taken into consideration that diseases of the Liver have become most alarmingly frequent in the United States. Indeed, there are few formidable diseases that are not in some way traceable to a deranged state of that important organ. Many of the complaints usually classed under the head of Consumption, have their origin in the Liver. "Any remedy that would insure regularity and healthful action in the Liver, would be a blessing to mankind!" has been the exclamation of thousands. That remedy has been found; it is safe and sure. When a fair trial has been afforded it, it has never been known to fail. Reader, have you any disease of the Liver, or disease which you believe proceeds from hepatic derangement?—Lose not a moment, but purchase a box of Dr. M'Lane's Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa., and they will restore you to health. It is the only remedy yet discovered, in which implicit confidence may be placed.

STILL IN THE FIELD!

Having understood that the report is being circulated that I had quit the BUTCHERING BUSINESS in Altoona, I take this method of informing my old customers and the public generally that I am still carrying on business at my old stand, where I am prepared to serve one and all with BEEF, VEAL, PORK, MUTTON, SAUSAGES, PUDDINGS, &c., equal, if not superior, to any in the market. I have made arrangements for procuring the very best of stock with which to furnish the market, an abundant supply of which will always be kept on hand to meet the wants of the public. Those in want of anything in the meat way are respectfully invited to call at the old stand.

W. K. LEONARD.

LOCAL ITEMS.

SUMMER.—This evening the morning toilet of summer will be completed, and to-morrow morning she will trip forth to view the handiwork of her beautiful sister May, (who now retires for a season) whose dewy fingers have unfolded the leaf buds, and whose genial breath has swelled almost to maturity the cherries and strawberries, which will acknowledge, with a blush, the kiss of summer. Beautiful is the renewed youth of Nature! On the carpet of velvet sward, spread by the fairy spring in the wood-land glades, for the shadows of the young leaves to dance on, the Elves of summer, with sunbeams for their needles, have already commenced their floral broidery. White and blue flowerets, too pretty to be called by the hard names that botany has assigned to them, are "cropping out," like vegetable gems, from among the grass; the dogwood blooms, shortest lived of the sylvan ephemerals, are fluttering in the forest aisles, and the maples are exchanging their purple robes for suits of "Lincoln green."—Young ladies who believe in the ancient recipe of morning-gathered May dew, as a beautifier of the complexion, have no doubt secured a stock of the cosmetic for the tan and freckle season. And we can assure them there is more efficacy in the prescription than they may suppose. The belle who leaves her couch before sunrise, to bottle the dew of May, is sure to be the rosier for her pains. We may mention, however, for the consolation of the lovely lie-a-beds who have neglected this hygeian duty during the present month, that June will do just as well: and if they should continue the operation every fine morning until November, so much the better for the transparency of their skins.

THAT BOQUET.—On Saturday last a little urchin popped into our sanctum and deposited upon our table a beautiful boquet accompanied by a note from the fair donor, the chirography of which we exceedingly regret we can not fully decipher, as we should like to lay it before the readers of the Tribune, hoping that others might thereby be induced to follow the example of our fair friend incognito. She commences her note by saying that she would like to be a philanthrophist. We assure her she is on the right road to become one. Like all other true philanthrophists she first thought of the "poor printer." She asks, "do you love flowers?" Yes we do, dear—(hold, hold, we're married, don't tell our wives)—philanthrophist. Copying your own expression, we say, "who so degraded, so lost to all sense of the beautiful as not to cherish in their heart of hearts a deep love for those pure emblems of God's loving kindness to mnn." She then adds "here are some for you, fresh from His Majesty's work-shop, whose foreman is Nature." Beautiful expression,—the world a work-shop and Nature the foreman. She says the flowers "have a fragrant smile for all of you, from the dignified Senior editor down to the little imps in the corner." True, fair friend, (all but the dignified) and we have enjoyed those smiles. You may call us benedicts and talk about our roast beef and onions as much as you please, if you keep the promise made in your postscript; and we will agree to buy all the butter and eggs you bring to town, if you will dispense with the services of your little brother Jake, and bring them to the office yourself.

AGAIN ARRESTED.—The two men, Hamilton and Helfright, whom we noticed last week as having been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the robbery of Fettinger's store, and were discharged for want of sufficient evidence, were again arrested on Monday last, at the instance of Gen B. F. Bell, of Bell's Mills, on suspicion of being the persons who entered the ticket office at that station, some time since, and stole a number of railroad tickets and other articles. The evidence adduced was not sufficient to convict them, but the Commonwealth demanded that they should be held for a further hearing to-day. In default of bail they were taken to jail, at Hollidaysburg, for safe keeping.

ACCIDENT.—Wm. Gable, of this place, a brakesman on one of the freight trains on the P. R. R., had one of his hands severely crushed, on Friday morning last, while coupling cars at Mifflin station. The first and second fingers were so much injured that they required amputation. The skin on the back and palm of his hand was much cut and torn. His fingers were amputated and his hand dressed by Dr. Rundio, of Mifflin, after which he returned to this place in the evening train.

PIC NIC.—The First Annual Pic Nic of the Mechanics of Altoona, will be held in Beales' Woods, on Saturday June 16th. Tickets for the affair are now out, and we would like to see them "go off like hot cakes" before a party of wood-choppers. The list of managers contains the names of some whom we know will "put it through," and make it a recherche pic nic.

CHANGE OF HOUR.—The hour for commencing services on Sabbath evening, in the Methodist Church, in this place, has been changed from half past seven to six o'clock, on and after Sabbath next.

TAX COLLECTORS.—The County Commissioners have appointed the following Collectors of State and County tax, for the present year, for the several Townships and Boroughs of the county:

Frankstown—Albert Wilson.
Catharine—Cyrus Mateer.
Altoona—Jos. K. Ely.
Tyrone bor.—John H. Patterson.
Woodberry—Robert Alexander.

AN IMPORTANT BIT OF LEGISLATION.—Aldermen and Justices of the Peace, who have not posted themselves in the Revised Penal Code of the laws of Pennsylvania, adopted at the late session, have a fact to learn. By that code their powers have been materially circumscribed. In future a list of criminal offences, hitherto bailable by them, can only be made bailable by the courts. The list of offences whose adjudication is removed from the power of the alderman, comprises arson, rape, mayhem, robbery or burglary; and in all such cases bail can only be received by the Supreme Court, the Court of Common Pleas, or one of its Judges, and the Mayor or Recorder of a city. As this is the letter of the code, section 7, page 53, of the Penal Laws of Pennsylvania, parties interested should remember the fact.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—Persons of a consumptive tendency have need to be very careful in the outset of a cough, and betake themselves in time, to a proper remedy. A cough is always evidence of irritation in the throat and lungs, resulting from some obstruction of the skin.—In order to prevent the attacks, wear flannel next the skin, guard the feet from damp and wet, and above all, take DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP upon the first approach of a cough or sore throat, and check the disease thereby in its infancy. There is nothing like attacking disease on first approach. By due attention to this advice you will save much suffering and sometimes prolong life. Even when consumption has become seated, this medicine will mitigate the suffering and has cured some very bad cases. Sold by G. W. Kessler.

LEG BROKEN.—Mr. Johnston Moore of Scotch Valley, went out to one of his pasture fields on Thursday evening last, to salt his colts, and whilst among them received a kick on his leg from one of them which broke it about half way between the knee and ancle, and so disabled him that he couldn't get to his house. And being at some distance from it his cries for assistance were not heard until some three hours after, about 9 o'clock. Dr. Smith was called, and the fracture adjusted, and every possible relief afforded, and we are pleased to say he is doing well and promises a speedy recovery.—Register.

☞ In another column will be found an advertisement by S. C. Baker, of Crystal Spring Mills, headed "Caution and Reward." It is certainly a small piece of business for flour manufacturers or dealers to steal the "trade mark" of others, but the fact that the flour from the Crystal Spring Mills is a par article in this community, may account for the desire to counterfeit, as anything bearing the brand named is bound to sell.

LOOK OUT.—Builders, merchants and others will find something to their advantage (or disadvantage, if they don't heed it,) by referring to an Ordinance recently passed by the Town Council, which will be found in another column. The new Board of Councilmen appear determined to have things done up systematically, and we say "drive on."

☞ On our outside will be found a letter from a former resident of this place, who is now in the employ of "Uncle Sam," and has been sent on a cruise around Cape Horn and other delectable localities. The letter is rather interesting and should be read by all. The author promises to send more of the same kind, and we hope he will keep his word.

FISHING TACKLE.—H. Fettinger has now on hand the largest assortment of fishing tackle to be found in any establishment outside the cities, consisting of everything from a hook up to a basket. It almost makes a man feel like going a fishing to step in and take a peep at his stock. Those who contemplate going on fishing excursions should first go to Fet's and get a rig.

☞ The regular monthly meeting of the Altoona Sabbath School Association will be held in the Lecture Room of the Lutheran Church on to-morrow (Friday) evening. A general attendance is requested as business of importance will come before the Association. Addresses by Rev. A. B. Clark and others are expected.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Democratic County Committee met in Hollidaysburg on the 3d inst., and passed a resolution fixing the 15th of August as the day for holding the County Convention. The primary meetings for the election of delegates will be held on Saturday, August 11th.

☞ The second Quarterly Meeting of the M. E. Church, of this place, will be held on Sabbath week, June 10th.

☞ Desirous of closing out my present business for the purpose of engaging in professional pursuits, I now offer my entire stock of Books, Music, &c., for sale at cost. Any one wishing to take my situation and continue the trade will receive liberal offers by making an early application. H. SMITH.

Altoona, May 29th, 1860.

BLAIR COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—An adjourned meeting of this Association will be held in Altoona, on Friday and Saturday, June 1st and 2d, 1860. All are invited to attend.

JOS. R. FINLEY, Pres't.

Altoona, May 24, 1860.

For the Tribune.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I am for the public good. Every scheme proposed, whereby the highest interests of the public may be promoted, meets with my hearty approbation, and, as far as possible, receives my undivided support. Every suggestion, uttered by the public's benefactor, recommending any improvement in morals, manners or maxims, finds in me an advocate weak, perhaps, but sure and firm.

Although no office-holder or seeker, I dearly love the public—its interests and its welfare,—and more especially that part which constitutes my own community. That is nearest my heart, and I rejoice when I see public-spirited individuals striving to give the proper tone to our sentiments and characters, and pointing out the way by which we may avoid the shoals and the quicksands, the trials, troubles and dangers of a thoughtless life. No doubt we have in our midst such persons—one, I know, we have, who has done much for our community by directing our minds in a practical way to such things as tend to our temporal and spiritual improvement. I refer to that able correspondent of your paper, who, by his "Letters to the Young Men of Altoona," was the means of inaugurating the movement for the establishment of an institution which is destined to tell favorably upon the minds and hearts of our youth, and who has sought every opportunity in public and private to produce still greater improvements.

Knowing that that gentleman possesses not that spirit which would spurn a suggestion made by one in humble life, and feeling, too, that he has the ability to improve it, I beg leave to offer this one:—Would it not be a good idea for the author of those deservedly popular letters to the young men of Altoona, to write a series in the same practical and earnest manner to the young women of this place? What does he think of it? and, Messrs. Editors, what do you think of it?

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Local Correspondence.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, May 29, 1860.

Messrs. Editors:—The Junior Sons of America of our town are making the necessary preparations and intend having a grand exhibition on the 5th of June. Invitations have been extended to all the camps in the county, and, should they all be represented, we have every reason for believing that they will have a "good time generally." Original speeches will be delivered by Messrs. Snyder, Gilbert, Mitchell, Leet, Burchinell, Stifler and Ray.

On Friday evening of last week the colored Wesleyan Methodists of this place gave an exhibition in their church, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the purchase of a library for their Sunday School. The attendance was quite large, but it is with regret that I add, the exercises were very much disturbed by our young hopefuls, who went there, it is presumed, for no other purpose. It would have served the young rascals right had they been locked up for the night in Sheriff Funk's boarding-house.

A man named Fisher, an employee in the Frankstow ore-bank, had in his possession thirty dollars worth of counterfeit scrip, on the firm of Watson, Deniston & Co, which he succeeded in trading to Mr. John O'Neal, of this place, for a silver lever watch and two dollars and fifty cents in money. The watch and money were recovered, but the scoundrel who forged the scrip was permitted to run at large, which is encouragement sufficient for Fisher to try his hand again.

Our town is very dull at the present time,—there appears to be a perfect cessation in business. Local items are very scarce. I hope that you will excuse the shortness of this letter, and I will endeavor to be more interesting in the future. W.

MARRIED.

On the 24th inst., by Rev. Lloyd Knight, Mr. CONRAD OTT, of Cincinnati, Ohio, to Miss CATHARINE NETNER of Frankstown township.

On the 27th inst., by the same, Mr. MICHAEL GENTNER, of this place, to Mrs. ELIZABETH SHIRK, of Middle Woodberry township, Bedford county.

On the 24th inst., by Rev. A. H. Sembower, Mr. JOHN H. TINKER to Miss ELIZABETH COX, both of this place.

DIED.

In this place, on the 24th inst., Mrs. CATHARINE, consort of Joshua Hooper, in the 62nd year of her age.

The subject of the above notice suffered long and painfully from Pneumonia, which terminated fatally in the complete exhaustion of the bodily functions. She died as she had lived—an affectionate wife and mother, a self denying christian. Never have we witnessed more patient suffering, greater resignation to the will of God, or a more ardent desire to depart and be with Christ. During her illness, with a smile of peace upon her countenance, she could thank God for the hope of eternal glory; and never did her assurance of future happiness once forsake her; but her last words, so expressive of joyful feelings, bore abundant testimony to all around of her triumphant and happy death.

In the death of this "mother in Israel," we see at least one of the greatly-to-be-desired fruits of our holy religion—it which, of itself, is no small matter to the pain-tortured mortal.

"can make a dying bed Feel soft as downy pillows are,"

The deceased has left behind her a wide circle of weeping friends, an aged husband, and a number of children grown to man and womanhood, who will ever cherish in their heart of hearts her sacred memory which shall always abide as grateful incense on the altar of filial affection.

"Then case, fond nature! cease thy tears,
Religion points on high;
There everlasting spring appears,
And joys that cannot die."

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of George Beatty, late of Altoona, Blair county, dec'd., have been granted to the undersigned, residing as aforesaid. CAUTION AND REWARD.—THE undersigned has good reason to believe that certain persons are in the habit of using and counterfeiting his "BRAND or TRADE MARK," used by him on his "Crystal Spring Mills Flour."

NOTICE TO BUILDERS, MERCHANTS AND OTHERS.

ORDINANCE NO. 15.

WHEREAS, great inconvenience and serious trouble frequently occur to the citizens of the Borough of Altoona, often ending in vexatious litigation, and in many cases encroachments are made on the streets, lanes and alleys, by those building houses and putting up other improvements. And whereas, complaints have been made to the Town Council by a number of the citizens of said Borough, that obstructions are permitted to exist on the side walks and pavements interfering with pedestrians, and trespassing upon the private rights of individuals, greatly detrimental to their comfort and busines operations, by Merchants and other dealers, and the keepers of Clothing stores, by an improper exposure of their goods, wares and merchandise, in front of their stores, and by putting up signs and awnings too low, across the sidewalks and pavements,

Therefore, Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Borough of Altoona, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same, That hereafter all per ons, owners of, or agents for, lots of ground within the limits of said Borough, wishing to put up buildings or improvements of any kind, intending to erect the same up to the line of the sidewalk, pavements or alleys, desiring an outlet for water from cellars, stables, sewers, pumps or hydrants, shall, before breaking ground, apply to the Supervisor, or President of Council, for a regular permit for whatever privileges may be necessary thereto. And in default there of, the Supervisor is hereby instructed, and required, to report the same immediately to the Council, who shall prosecute the person or persons so offending, and on conviction thereof, before the Chief Burgess or a Justice of the Peace, the person or persons found guilty shall forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding Ten Dollars for each offence, to be collected as sums of like amount are by law recoverable, for the use of the said Borough.

And further, it is hereby ordained by the authority aforesaid, that hereafter, all persons desiring to erect awnings or put up sign boards, across any of the side walks or pavements of said Borough, shall, previously to the erecting or putting up, apply to the proper officer for a permit; and no awning or sign board, so put up, shall be lower than 10 feet from the surface or level of the sidewalk or pavement, and shall leave the gable ends of all awnings open. And also, the owners and occupants of all awnings or signs now erected or put up, extending across the pavements or sidewalks of said Borough are hereby required to have the same altered so as to fully meet the requirements of this Ordinance by raising them to the proper height.

And also, any person or persons, company, or society, trading, marketing, or merchandising, or using any of the sidewalks or pavements within the limits of the said Borough, for exhibiting theirs wares and merchandize or otherwise, shall at no time occupy more than five feet of the sidewalk or pavement, and in all cases that portion of the pavement or sidewalk next to their own houses; and every person offending against the provisions of this Ordinance for the space of ten days after being duly notified by the Supervisor, shall, upon conviction thereof before the Chief Burgess or a Justice of the Peace, be fined in a sum no exceeding Ten Dollars for every such offence, for the use of the said Borough, to be recovered as debts of a like amount are by law recoverable.

Passed May 10th, 1860—to take effect June 10th, 1860.

HAIR, HAT, TOOTH, SHAVING, Paint, Sash and Varnish Brushes at KESSLER'S.

THE ONLY PREPARATION WORTHY of UNIVERRAL CONFIDENCE AND PATRONAGE.

For Statesmen, Judges, Clergymen, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 26th, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received saying that you heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair is auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatning to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very respectfully, BEN. S. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, New York.

My family are absent from the city, and I am no longer at No. 11 Carrol Place.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1860.

TO PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC of its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly. WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. Kenedy.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my oblig MARRIAGE GUIDE—BEING A private instructor for married persons, or those about to be married both male and female, in everything concerning the physiology and relations of our system, and the production or prevention offspring, including all the new discoveries never before given in the English language, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This is really a valuable and interesting work. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with numerous Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents in specie or in postage stamps. Address DR. WM. YOUNG, No. 416 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

CONSUMPTION AND ASTHMA CURED.

DR. H. JAMES,

Discovered, while in the West Indies, a certain cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility. The remedy was discovered by him when his only child, a daughter, was given up to die. His child was cured, and is now alive and well. Desirous of benefitting his fellow mortals, he will send to those who wish it, the recipe containing full directions for making and successfully using this remedy, free, on receipt of their names with stamp for return postage. When received, take it to G. W. Kessler, Druggist, Altoona. There is not a single symptom of Consumption which it does not at once take hold of and dissipate. Night sweats, peevishness, irritation of the nerves, failure of memory, difficult expectoration, sharp pains in the lungs, sore throat, chilly sensations, nausea at the stomach, inaction of the bowels, wasting away of the muscles. DR. O. PHELPS BROWN'S
ACACIAN BALSAM,
FOR THE PERMANENT
CURE OF CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, COUGHS, COLDS, & GENERAL DEBILITY, &C.

THIS remedy is offered as affording a means of speedy cure for the large number that die annually in our land of that fell scourge, Consumption, to which, unfortunately, so many predisposing causes exist. Youth and age are alike subject to its ravages.

EVERY PERSON

can name one or more of his acquaintances who is subject to some form of lung or throat complaint, which, if not attended to in season, inevitably consigns the sufferer to a premature grave. To such, help is at hand if they will but avail themselves of it, and hope,—the harbinger of brighter days,—may be awakened without fear of chilling disappointment. Dr. O. PHELPS BROWN'S ACACIAN BALSAM does just what is claimed for it, and may be relied upon by the sick as being the most successful in curing lung and throat disorders, of any remedy known at the present day. The many phases assumed by Consumption justifies the apprehension of those who have reason to fear its approach, either from constitutional or hereditary tendency.

While the discoverer of this remedy does not believe that people should be constantly dosing themselves with medicines

TO PREVENT SICKNESS,

there are many cases where disease is too long allowed to remain unchecked in the system; and a slight cough, regarded at first as simply an annoyance, ceases only with the life of the patient. An impure state of the blood, through debilitation of the lungs, fills the system with morbid humors, and pulsation becomes feeble or accelerated to a feverish intensity—the heart, liver, and kidneys, separately performing functions of vital necessity to our well-being, are impeded in their regular action—the digestive organs falter in their task, and refuse to perform the process of separating the nutritious elements from food, and the whole mental being is well-nigh ready to sink under the burden of life. The patient so afflicted, accounts his case a complication of disorders, and often refuses to resort to medication, from his thorough disbelief in any prospect of cure. To such of the ACACIAN BALSAM, as thoroughly worthy the confidence of all. Every symptom of Consumption is surely and permanently eradicated by its use. Its effects are none other but strengthening and renovating to the entire system. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility, are effectually cured by its use. Night Sweats, Loss of Flesh, and Wasting away of the Muscles, Loss of Appetite, Soreness of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs, Liver Complaint, Palpitation of the Heart, Difficulty of Breathing—all these affections disappear in an incredibly short time after using Dr. O. Phelps Brown's Acacian Balsam.

It nourishes and strengthens the patient who is too much reduced to partake of ordinary food. It heals all internal sores, tubercles, and inflammation. It strengthens, braces, and revitalizes the brain, and is without a rival as a tonic, supplying electricity or magnetic force to every part of the enfeebled and prostrate body. It needs no lengthy trial to convince any that the ACACIAN BALSAM is truly the greatest remedy of the day, as its beneficial qualities are fully apparent in eight-and-forty hours after trial.

Let the invalid, then, no longer delay, but make the trial, and the result will surely be of the most gratifying character.

The ACACIAN BALSAM is prepared with the greatest care, and the best materials. No pains or expense are spared to make it what it is—the best known remedy of the age. It may be taken by either sex, of all ages, and at all seasons, with perfect safety; and it is none the less powerful in conquering those diseases which sap the foundation and destroy the lives of so many in our midst. Every family should have it, and regard it as a household treasure.

MOTHERS

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First. It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them. Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests un er the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation, viz:—

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTEDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c., also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the Bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For the CROUP, the most fatal and trying of all diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful antispasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to lose no time in procuring it. Lastly—It costs so much more than other preparations of the kind that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason it commends itself a the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years practice—as a last resort conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of Physiology to the more immediate connection and effect of the state of the Blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over two thousand consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite or pain in the side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your Sleep is Broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are Depressed, or your Organs relaxed, you will find this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate and bring it into lively and healthy action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas and other like complaints.—Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success. For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the ends.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.
